Dear Quad Cities Passenger Rail Coalition:

_____ offers our full support for the effort to restore passenger rail service between the Quad Cities and Chicago. The transportation, economic, environmental, and quality of life benefits of passenger rail service make it an important priority for the entire Quad City region.

We offer our support to work together with the Quad Cities Passenger Rail Coalition (“QC Rail”) as a unified voice for our region to once again have direct passenger rail service to Chicago. As a thriving metropolitan area encompassing Illinois and Iowa communities of nearly 400,000 residents, we believe the growing Quad City region will provide an ample supply of rail passengers, while serving as an important link to possible continued routes into Iowa. We look forward to the benefits of this new transportation option for business, leisure, and commuter travel, and also the associated impact on regional commerce, the environment, and quality of life. It’s been nearly 30 years since the last passenger train embarked to Chicago from the Quad Cities. Restored Passenger rail in the Quad City region just makes sense.

Please include our company/organization as a supporter of the Quad Cities Passenger Rail Coalition on your website and written materials. We look forward to passenger rail service becoming a reality again.

Sincerely,
